Dear Mr. Navecky,

We are writing to express our objections to the GLB Railroad projec

As owners of two farms in Ogle Co. IL. which have been in our family for four generations, we are very distraught to think that our descendants might inherit farms which would have hundreds of acres of permanently damaged soils and land usage. In navigating across rail lines, cross roads, waterways, and bridges the landscape will be forever changed.

Living in an area of noise and vibration from many trains passing through farms, people will leave because their way of life has been changed by the rail. People will have decreased income from decreased production of grains, vegetables, and livestock, forcing them to go out of business.

Farmland is irreplaceable once it has been damaged. Consider who would use this rail laine? Is there a need in our area? What local areas will benefit in the long run? What happens if later the rail line is abandoned?

Please consider all of these objections which we as landowners do not want on our private property.

Respectfully Submitted,

David and Barbara Guest
